

The Wisconsin Evaluation Collaborative (WEC)

Supporting the Evaluation Needs of PreK-12 Education

What is WEC?

WEC is a unit within the Wisconsin Center for Education Research (WCER) at UW-Madison that conducts and supports program evaluations within the preK-12 education system through partnerships with school districts, professional associations, state agencies, education-based community organizations and foundations, and Cooperative Educational Service Agencies (CESAs).

We are a community of evaluators with diverse content and methodological expertise from across WCER and the School of Education at UW-Madison. In addition to our network of experienced evaluation professionals, WEC includes an outreach clinic that provides services to small projects through applied training of graduate students in evaluation and research methods.

How can WEC help?

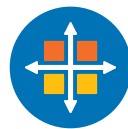

WEC provides a wide range of evaluation assistance including consultations to discuss evaluation needs and appropriate support, strategic evaluation planning, feedback on evaluation designs and methods, and comprehensive evaluation.

We involve partner organizations in the entire evaluation process and strive to work in culturally responsive ways to build capacity within the organizations for future evaluation activities.

Learn More | Contact Us

Please visit our website for a full list of WEC's services, resources, staff bios, contact information and more:
wec.wceruw.org

Services and areas of support

Logic modeling and evaluation planning

Crafting research and evaluation questions

Data sourcing and collection

Surveys and focus groups

Statistical analysis

Designing continuous improvement

Dissemination and data visualization

Culturally Responsive (Indigenous) Evaluation and Equity Focus